ABOUT COMMUNITY HEALTH CHARITIES

Community Health Charities is a nonprofit that raises awareness and resources for health and wellness by connecting more than 2,000 of the most trusted health charities across the United States with more than 17 million caring employees through workplace giving campaigns, causes, wellness programs, employee engagement, and strategic partnerships. Health has never been such an urgent priority: 77% of U.S. workers suffer from at least one long-term health condition, ranging from cancer to asthma — chances are someone you know is affected.

At SeriousFun camps, children living with serious illnesses get to experience many "firsts." Their first time to stay away from home in a place that isn't a hospital. Their first time to ride a horse or fly down a zip-line. Their first time to just feel like a kid.

For eight-year-old Nevaeh, who attended Transplant Week, it was her first time to ever swim in a lake. On the first day of camp, when she first touched the water, she was timid and scared. Two days later, she was running full force into the lake toward her new friends with a joyous smile on her face.
